"The sexy bar on level 4. She's a total spunk and quite the internationalist. Ottomans nestled around a glassed in fireplace, very New York, curtained enclaves create a Middle Eastern feel along one wall (think shisha pits in Cairo), while views from the open veranda overlooking the copper domes of the QVB, could be Rome, London or Paris" - The Sun Herald

Sydney's sexiest nightspot, Zeta Bar is an opulent oasis in the heart of the city, filled with purple hues and dark wood tones. Located atop a breathtaking CBD rooftop terrace, Zeta reveals a never-before-seen view of the historic Queen Victoria Building and overlooks the length of George Street, spanning down towards the harbour. The inspired interior features indulgent spaces to sip cocktails. A sleek oak wood island bar runs the length of the main room flooded in a deep red and purple glow from huge glass lamps. In the lounge there is an array of plush leather ottomans and dark timber tub chairs centred around a stylish oversized fireplace which burns with sparkling glass rocks.

Zeta changed the face of Sydney's bar landscape when it burst onto the drinking scene as part of Hilton Sydney in 2005. Zeta has since developed a reputation as one of the most cutting edge and pioneering bars in the Southern Hemisphere, bringing some of the most prominent global bar trends to Australia.

Zeta Bar has become a Sydney icon, popular with visiting international celebrities. Jessica Simpson, Kimberley Stewart, James Blunt, Snoop Dogg and Nicole Ritchie have all partied there and Aussie A-listers Jennifer Hawkins, Hugh Jackman, Ian Thorpe, and Megan Gale often stop by for a beverage.

Warm colours, cool drinks and exceptional service from renowned Sydney bartenders give Zeta an undeniable edge, making it one of the city's hottest nightspots for sipping a cocktail or simply relaxing on the outdoor terrace.
